

MISSISSIPPI STATE UNIVERSITY™

T - 662.325.2963
F - 662.325.4525
kineweb@colled.msstate.edu

Department of Kinesiology
www.kinesiology.msstate.edu

216 McCarthy Gym
P.O. Box 6186
Mississippi State, MS 39762

Stamatis Agiovlasitis, Ph.D., FACSM
Professor
Email: sa609@msstate.edu

Dr. Stamatis Agiovlasitis from the Department of Kinesiology at Mississippi State University invites applications for a Graduate Teaching Assistantships for students interested in pursuing a master's or doctoral degree in Exercise Science under his supervision. The general theme of the lab is Physical Activity and Health in Individuals with Down Syndrome.

Benefits of the assistantship include: tuition waiver; stipend; and a lot of learning!

The ideal candidate will have a research interest in physical activity for persons with disabilities and strong reasoning, communication, and writing skills.

Interested individuals should send CV and a Statement of Interest (1 page) to Dr. Stamatis Agiovlasitis at: sa609@msstate.edu. Start date is Fall 2022.

Information about the graduate programs can be found at:
<https://www.kinesiology.msstate.edu/graduate-programs>

Information about admissions can be found at:
<https://www.kinesiology.msstate.edu/admissions>

For additional information, please contact Dr. Stamatis Agiovlasitis: sa609@msstate.edu